Hurri-Kane

The Hurri-Kane staff each year faces the task of compiling our treasury of memories—the Hurri-Kane. Faithfully recording in words and pictures all the brightest moments of our school careers,—our friends, teachers, classes, clubs, plays, everything pertaining to our development through school—the Hurri-Kane is a thoughtful reflection on things past.

Members of the Hurri-Kane staff have an all-year job, often beginning during the summer vacation, when they start planning the yearbook, continuing all through the school term, and climaxed on that day when happy students receive their annual, and all round the school is heard, "Oh, look! There's . . ."

The staff worked long and hard, spending many days after school and countless evenings cutting, pasting, typing, proofreading, flashing cameras, and pushing pencils—that you might have in your hands this, the fruits of their labors—a picture-word story of your school year and your friends.

Kane Area Joint School Board

Our school board has been busy this year. It has become one of the state pioneers in publishing a School Board Policy stating its duties to advance education.

Among prospective changes is an expansion of the curriculum to include such things as spoken foreign languages in seventh and eighth grades, language grammar beginning in ninth grade, and health in junior and senior high.

Plans have also been made to give the senior high students more room as well as a new cafeteria, a health room, and a much-needed art department.

All this and more will be made possible when studious little junior high pupils depart for their $1,500,000 school in September 1958.

Our School Board in action.

CLASS OFFICERS

Carol Pierotti, Jim Ingersoll, Chuck Arnold, Carol Peterson.

Class rings at last! The junior class under their adviser, Laverne Johnson, started the year by ordering their rings from the various Kane jewelers.

In October the class elected the following officers: Jim Ingersoll, president; Chuck Arnold, vice president; Carol Peterson, secretary; and Carol Ann Pierotti, Treasurer.

In January the class started to plan their first money making project toward their Washington trip—their junior play “Jenny Kissed Me”, a comedy in three acts by Jean Kerr, which was presented on March 20 and 21 and was well received on both evenings. Miss Joan Begeny was the director.

Class officers started planning for the Junior-Senior Prom in January, although it was not held until May 9.

They decided on the theme “Young at Heart”. The gymnasium was decorated with a large heart as the centerpiece in the middle of the floor. Ray Brooks and his orchestra furnished music for the dancers.

Activities

Student Council

Student Council keeps things moving.

Student Council, the governing body of Kane High, plans and carries out activities in all facets of school life.

There are four standing Student Council committees—Service, which plans all service projects; Assembly, which is in charge of choosing assemblies; Cafeteria, which plans menus; and Social, which plans all dances and social event.

The main Council project this year was the compiling of a handbook for the senior high next year.

The Junior Red Cross is a service organization and this year has made favors for hospital trays for every important holiday.

Officers are: Natalie Hill, president; Allan Kelley, vice president; Mary Montgomery, secretary; Paul Erickson, treasurer. Penny Miller is the librarian and Jann Gourley and Roger Hedlund are the student advisers. Miss Sylvia Johnson is the group's adviser.

National Honor Society

"Good Luck." This year nine seniors and eight juniors experienced the good fortune of being inducted into National Honor Society. The seven old members chose the four leaf clover as their theme, with each leaf representing N.H.S.'s qualifications for admittance: scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Each candidate had to be in the upper third of his class and satisfy the other virtues. On February 28 the solemn tapping rewarded those who have in their high school years served their class and school.

The Varsity Club organized and supervised by Robert Robinson, was started last year for the purpose of promoting good sportsmanship for both participants and spectators at athletic events.

A club member must have a varsity letter in some sport, and must be in good standing with other club members and with teachers.

The officers of the club are president, "Sonny" Bush; vice president, Jim Kibbie; secretary, Bob Lindquist; and treasurer, Jim Johnson.

Athletic Association, under President Al Peterson, this year continued to plan and work for all kinds of athletics in Kane High.

This group took care of football tickets and programs and the concession as always, and the year innovated the practice of taking over at the door for basketball games, a job formerly handled by various teachers.

Buses for out of town games were secured by the council, and sportsmanship was promoted in all ways possible.

Hall Patrol

Kane High traffic cops are the hall patrol men. Before the class bell rings, these boys man their stations in the halls, guiding student traffic in the right direction and on the right side of the halls, to lessen confusion and the danger of accidents.

Without the hall patrols, many new students could not find their classrooms in the fall.

Hall patrol is composed of senior boys, with Mr. Victor Klein as adviser and Jim Scott, captain.

Library Assistants

Library Assistants are on the job every period of the day, helping Mrs. Jones with library work. Each girl gives up one study hall a week, during which she works at the library desk, checking books and helping other students find books which they cannot locate. The striking bulletin boards featured in the library all year were also designed by the group. This work trains the girls for more efficient work elsewhere, as well as giving the librarian a lift.

Phy Chy Club, composed of juniors and seniors interested in physics and chemistry, had a very successful year under President Bob Lindquist and adviser Mr. Edward Bryant.

Members enjoyed a series of varied programs, including speakers and scientific demonstrations.

Highlighting the year was the play "Journey to Exodus", which was presented in assembly, and the annual field trip.

The Mable Studebaker Chapter of F.T.A. was a very successful organization under the direction of Mr. Gregg Turner.

Various speakers discussed the different aspects of teaching as a profession. Visits to the grade schools and assisting in high school classes gave each member an idea of the responsibility of a teacher.

The initiation of new members was a highlight this year.

Military Leadership

Forward march! Ri-i-ght face! Abo-o-ut face! These commands may be heard issuing from the gym first period every Thursday, when fifteen senior boys meet to learn the fundamentals of marching. These boys, under their adviser Mr. Vic Gentilman, strive to learn both how to follow orders and to give commands. The training received in Military Leadership club is often valuable to the boys when they enter the armed services, as they also learn the manual of arms and how to lead a squadron.

Small Arms

Nearly eighty sports-minded eighth and ninth grade boys met during the year for instruction in shooting. The Small Arms Club, advised and instructed by Mr. William Miller, was divided into eight firing groups of ten boys each. One group fired each Monday and Wednesday morning.

Members received training in handling a twenty-two rifle, and practice in shooting from the four positions, prone, sitting, kneeling and standing. The sharpshooters tried for a score of two hundred fifty points, which entitled them to a marksmanship medal.

Future Homemakers of America is a new club this year. Any girl taking advanced home-making is eligible for membership. One of the main events of the year was a Thanksgiving breakfast in November.

The officers of F. H. A. are: Norma Measel, President; Nancy Steele, Vice President; Maggie Roth, Treasurer; Becky Campbell, Secretary; Geraldine Nystrom, Historian; Darlene Hadfield, song leader.

Folk Song Group, one of Kane High's special singing groups, is often called upon by local clubs and organizations to provide entertainment at their meetings.

The group, directed by Mr. Charles Stewart, specializes in folk songs and ballads.

Highlighting the year is the annual tour of neighboring high schools.

Senior High Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Loren Wright, got underway last fall by promptly starting to rehearse songs for their annual Christmas Carol Festival. "The Night Before Christmas," "The Snow Lay on the Ground," and "Let It Snow" were a few of the songs they sang.

In February six members of the chorus attended the North Central District Chorus Festival in Montoursville, Pennsylvania. They were Gloris Skelly, Virginia Morse, Eunice Murphy, Lois Bilicic, Allen Peterson, and Ron Huckabone.

For the annual Spring Concert, which was presented in April, the group sang "Let There Be Muisce," "A Senorita's Serenade," "Blessing Glory and Wisdom" and other selections.

The Junior Boys' Quintet and the Sophomore Ensemble are two popular groups much in demand both in school and out. These boys, who sing folk and popular music, are often called upon to entertain civic and social groups in the Kane area, and are also favorites with the student body.

One of the most rewarding organizations open to the junior high students is the Junior High Mixed Chorus. Every Wednesday and Friday morning eighth and ninth grade songbirds burst forth into musical harmony. This group, under the direction of Mr. Loren Wright, was organized early last fall. They practiced long and faithfully learning the basic principles of good harmony, such as careful enunciation, the maintenance of proper pitch, and the blending of the voices. Eagerly they toiled away, practicing for a very important coming event. This was the annual Christmas Festival featuring student talent. No sooner had this very successful affair taken place than they began rehearsals for the Spring Concert, which was held in April.

Bandsmen perform for Homecoming.

Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings during second period Mr. Charles Stewart gave the down beat and the high school band could be heard warming up to a snappy march such as "His Honor."

In April Nancy Homan, Carol Weiser, Otis Irons, Wilbur Mathys and Jim Nelson traveled to Coudersport to represent Kane High in the North Central District Band Festival.

The band and orchestra combined to present their annual Spring Concert in May.

The Kane High orchestra rehearsed every Tuesday and Thursday morning in the auditorium. This organization performed for many assemblies and for baccalaureate and commencement exercises.

Just after returning from Christmas vacation, Carol Malmstrom, Mary Johnson, Ruth Carlson, and Cleone Mathys participated in the North Central District Orchestra Festival, which was held in State College, Pennsylvania. Mary Johnson was later chosen to represent Kane High at State Orchestra in Erie.

Nearly fifty eighth graders interested in the world of make-believe, the theater, met under the guidance of Mrs. Grace Cochrane, to learn the fundamentals of dramatics.

This group elected Bob Carlson, President; Penny Miller, Vice President; Janelle Carlson, Secretary, and Shirley Overbeck, Treasurer. Programs, which consisted of skits, pantomimes and short plays, were planned by the program committee, with each member appearing in at least one.

Major project of the Jr. Dramatics year was the presentation of the one-act play "Don't Call Me Junior", by Hugh R. Bennick, which was given for junior high assembly and for West Side and Central Schools.

Every other Tuesday, under the able guidance of Mr. Barilar, about fifty-five talented freshmen met for 9th Grade Dramatics.

The primary purpose of the club was to enable the participating students to learn to express their dramatic ability. Secondly, they were laying the foundation for future membership in Thespian Club.

Early in the year, the club divided into groups to give short plays, one for each meeting. The remaining members, acting as an audience, criticized the productions, giving the good and bad points. All members appeared in plays during the year.

The young dramatic's officers were Angelo Cappello, President; Jean Stimmel, Secretary; and Roger Woll, Treasurer.

Attired in formal gowns, the Usherettes, under the guidance of their adviser Miss Barbara Turner, provided a professional air for school presentations at curtain time.

The job of these thirty-three girls is to guide people to the seats that match the tickets they carry. This is not done as easily as it sounds, especially when the big rush starts.

The girls hold no regular meetings, but can be relied upon to usher at any school function. In the spring sophomores are asked to help with vesper and commencement exercises.

Thespian Club is a dramatics organization for Kane High's "veteran" actors and actresses—senior high students who have belonged to one of the junior dramatics clubs.

This group had a full schedule of activities, all of them giving members a better understanding to the world of the theater. They were given instruction in applying make-up and in stage presence, and presented the play "Nobody Sleeps".

An outstanding program was given by Mort Clark, of Alfred University, and a troupe of players who had made a tour of Europe, who gave several presentations.

Senior Play

The Grass That's Greener was a howling success. This 3 act farce by Hal O'Neil Kestler was one of the Class's Washington trip money-making schemes. However, the enjoyment that came from the production was worth the work put into it by the committees, the director, Roy Smith, and the student director M. E. Buchheit.

The lively action of the play is based on the problems of the Burchram family. Tim Walter played George Burchram, whose campaign for mayor involves him with some strange people—the Ladies of Candleoosa, N. Homan, Gloria Skelly, and Virginia Hill, who present him with a medal and two comic gangsters, Lippy, Harry Migliorino, and Moe, Bill German, who steal the medal and try to blackmail George with it. Allen Peterson as Harley Burchram and Tom Walter as Farley save the day by receiving the medal through the use of a vaudeville routine and "Jesse", an armorer with a personality.

Jeanette Garell and Navarre Horn, double-cast as Rita, help L. Burchram through a succession of friends. Clark Gayley as Larry Lee Grosch as Roger drift away, leaving Loral brokenhearted. Grace Burchram, Mary Thompson, saves L. by destroying her souvenirs, bringing her from her memories back to the present.

Harley's problem is solved when he and Farley get a part in the All-School Revue. Now he is confronted with a new problem: his long friendship with Farley is threatened when Farley receives a terrifying new 16-old birthday present—a girl friend, Teenie, played by Millie Hutchins.

About fifty ballplayers charged onto the Kane gridiron late in August to find big chances in store for them.

After three weeks of hard work, the Wolves were set to unveil their 1957 team. Failing to take advantage of breaks made by Ridgway High Elkers, Kane lost its opener 19-0.

Coming up against the champions of the Bucktail Conference, the St. Marys Dutchmen, Kane was beaten 31-12. A fired-up Kane team beat Emporium 21-12 for their first win of the season.

With a win under their belts the Wolves went to meet their old rivals the Johnsonburg

Ramblers, and were whipped 40-14.

Without any hope of taking first place in the Bucktail Conference, the wolf-pack bitterly avenged themselves by trouncing the Port Allegany "Gators" 37-12.

The Wolves went to Northern Area to play for the first time. Kane was beaten 26-13.

The Kane Wolves reached their peak at Warren, when they battled the supposedly tough Dragons to defeat by the score 20-7.

The Wolves fans watched a fired-up Franklin team beat Kane 12-7 in the snow. This was Kane's final game. The Wolves wound up with a record of three wins and five defeats.

With tremendous support from the ninth grade, high hopes for a good varsity team in the future were awakened this year by the junior varsity team under the guidance of Coach Vern Johnson.

These boys showed great promise by the manner in which they tackled opponents much larger than they were.

J. V. letters were awarded to the following: Ed Street, Ron Huckabone, Tom Brown, Larry Ashbaugh, Gary Anderson, Joe Bouch, Jim Swanson, Frank Smith, Tom Brinkley, Gene Kline, Pat Shields, and Bob Myers.

Boosting the morale of players and fans was the duty of the cheerleaders who were found leaping, bouncing and bobbing at every football or basketball game, cheering the Wolves to victory. The cheerleaders had a "new look" this year. For football season they donned new white gloves, and beanies in Kane High's red and blue.

Later, before the start of King Basketball's reign, their traditional blue skirts were remodeled, and the girls emerged for basketball season sporting red skirts, white blouses, bow ties and beanies, an entirely different uniform from last year's blue skirts and red sweaters.

The cheerleaders worked long and hard for our school. They held pep assemblies, a parade and bonfire, sold tickets for the uptown Booster Club, and assisted in the Coronation Ceremonies of Homecoming Queen Becky Campbell, forming an archway of red and blue for the royal procession.

An annual affair is the formal dinner party always held during the Christmas season, chaperoned by the adviser Mrs. Turner and an invited guest of the faculty who has given extra time and help to the cheerleading squad.

The basketball Wolves got to a flying start by whipping powerful Warren team 85-74 and taking the Ridgway Elkers to the Ridgway court 57-47. Then the roof fell in as Kane went down to defeat before the Johnsonburg Ramblers and by the Dubois quintet for their first league loss.

Picking up spirit, they defeated St. Marys, and moved home to wallop Johnsonburg. Curnsville's Golden Tide was no match for the Wolves, and that victory gave them a 1-1 league record.

The Rauschmen trekked to Adford, to suffer their worst defeat of the season, 66-27, and five days later dropped their fourth game to the Punxsutawny Chucks, for a 1-3 record in league play.

By winning their next twelve games, the Wolfpack gained a three way tie for first place with Dubois and Punxsy. In their finishing showing of the season, the home quintet whipped the Clearfield Bisons and a week later, beat Dubois in a sudden death elimination playoff, with the victors to meet Punxsutawney for the District IX Championship. Kane fell before the Beaver, ending the season with an admirable record of seventeen wins and five losses.

Bob Lindquist was the leading scorer in the league with a total of 212 points.

Girls' Intramurals

Tuesdays and Thursdays were busy days in the gym, for on these days the girls played intramural sports competing against teams in their own division, junior high or senior high. All intramural sports were supervised by Mrs. Alice Turner, who scheduled games and registered teams, assisted by voluntary referees and scorekeepers.

The first activity of the intramural season was wall soccer. Prudy Bebel's Bebops took top honors in the senior league, while Ginger Johnson's Slap Happy's were the champs in the junior circuit.

Next on the agenda was foul shooting, in which the girls shot for twenty-five baskets. Sandy Dwight with sixteen points was the senior league champion and Nancy Schloppy was tops among the junior high girls.

Basketball, the favorite sport in the intramural program, followed, with the Bebops and the Slap Happy's taking over the first place slots again, in wall soccer.

The nets went up, signalling the start of the volleyball season. The Bebops emerged victorious, adding a third championship to their honors in soccer and basketball.

The last sport on the intramural schedule was badminton.

As in previous years, felt emblems were awarded to members of championship teams in basketball, volleyball and badminton. Also, the intramural K's were awarded to individual girls who had attained the highest number of points throughout the year. The point system gives each girl ten points for winning, seven for losing, five for substituting and three for refereeing and scorekeeping.

Boys' Intramurals

The confusion in the boys' locker room on Monday and Wednesday invited the mass participation in boys' intramurals. The intramural program, which is divided for boys who do not participate in a varsity sport, is under supervision of Mr. Victor Gentil-

Playing footballs characterized the sport, touch football. Leo Ferro and his team, the Lions, took honors in the senior league.

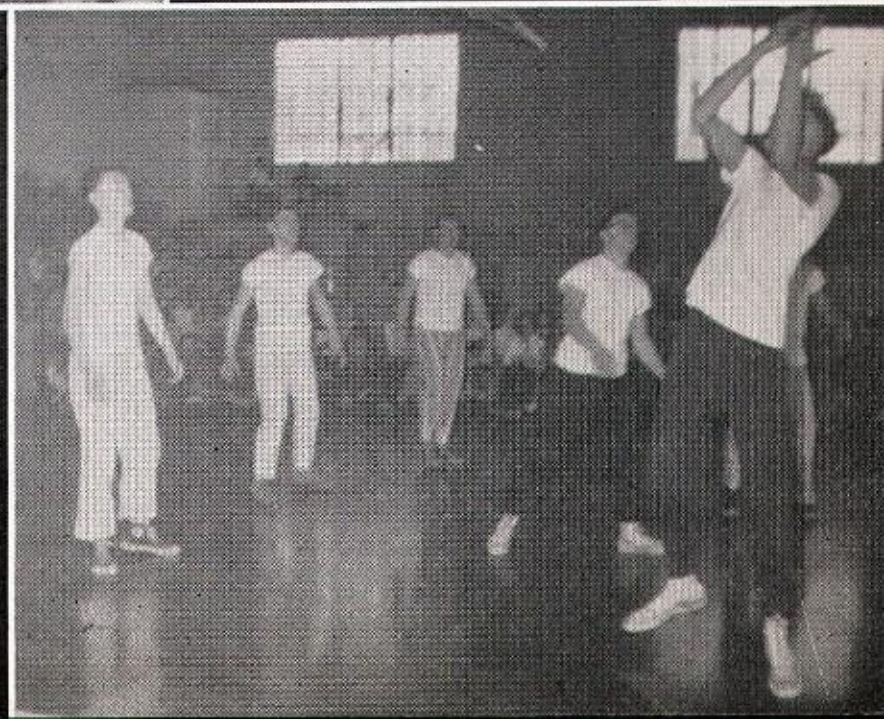

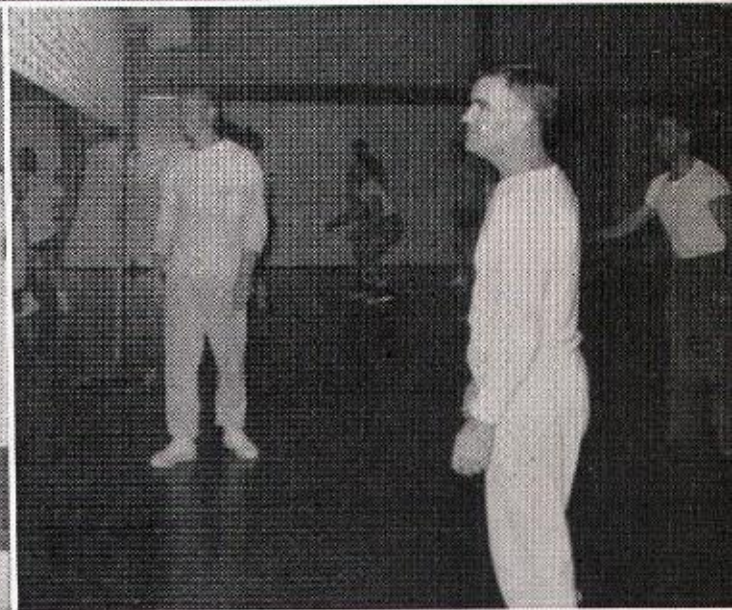

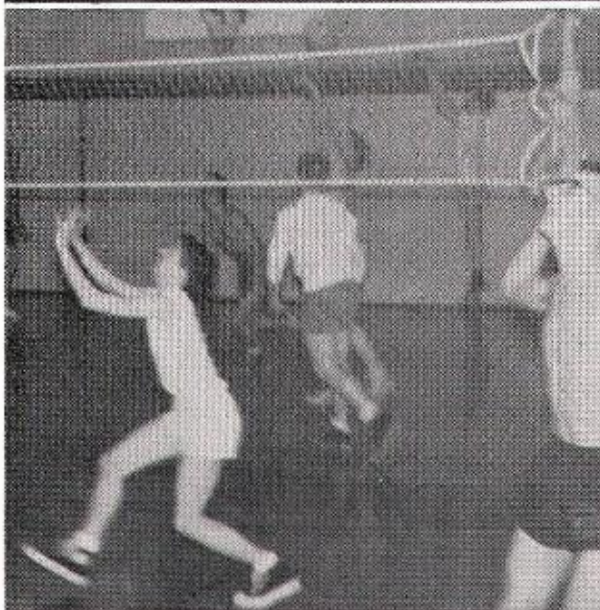

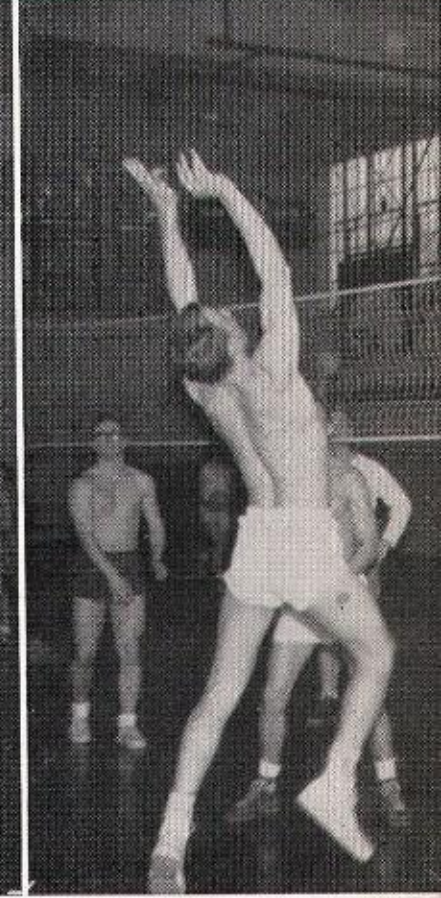

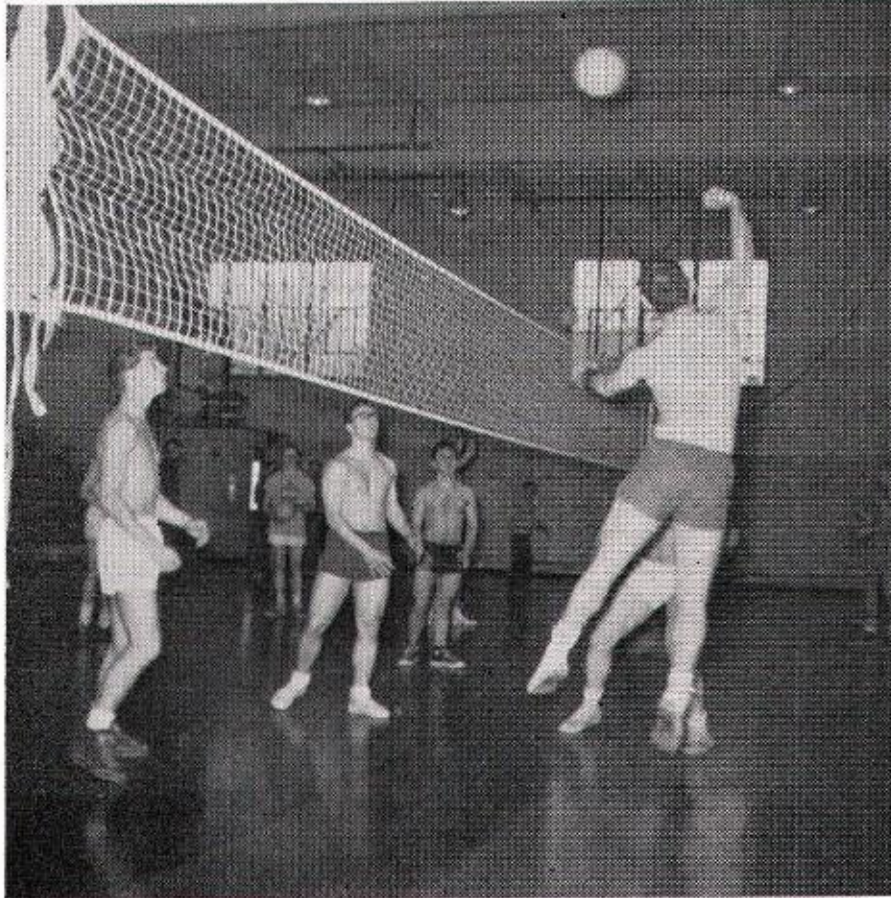

Basketball inaugurated the winter program. After a full schedule of games and a lot of fun, the seniors emerged as senior league champions.

Volleyball was also a popular sport. The Lackers won first place in the senior league and the Spikers and Snicks were victorious in the freshman and eighth grade leagues. Volleyball is the only sport in which the school has a team.

Intramural wrestling offered individual competition for each boy. This year there were eight different weight classes with a champion in each. Each sport created a great deal of interest and enthusiasm for both the participants and the spectators.

The pleasant sunshine and warm floors offered a perfect atmosphere for the track and field events of the spring intramural program. With the completion of this activity, intramurals were finished for the present school year, and K's were awarded to those with the highest number of points.
